K. Mars

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA was held in summer 1981.

Every so often a lightning party passes to assess its work in the light of new developments and to check its judgments. The year and one-half since the founding of the Marxist-Leninist Party on January 1, 1980 has been a time of vigorous struggle and intense work. In this short time, the MLP has already established itself among the masses as the rallying point for the forces of revolutionary Marxism-Leninism. It has proudly continued the revolutionary traditions of its predecessors, the American Communist Workers Movement (Marxist-Leninist) and the Central Organization of U.S. Marxist-Leninists, and has carried the Party's banner in the front ranks of the class struggle. Moreover, this one and one-half years since the Founding Congress have not only been a period of concentrated activity for the Party, but have also seen several new political developments of first-class significance for the working class and the Marxist-Leninists.

The role of the First National Conference was to consider the new developments. The Conference was attended by all militants working under the discipline of the MLP. Held under the fighting slogans "BUILD THE INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT OF THE WORKING CLASS!" and "FOR THE MARXIST-LENINIST PARTY, AGAINST LIQUIDATIONISM AND SOCIAL-DEMOCRACY!", the Conference concentrated its attention on the four following areas:

First, the Conference assessed the current national political situation. It discussed the significance of the inauguration of Reagan as the chief of the capitalist reaction. The installation of the Reagan administration as the henchman for the monopoly capitalist dictators is another sign of the savage capitalist offensive and the dangerous reaction in the U.S. At the same time, it is a sign of the desperation of the bourgeoisie and of the deepening all-round crisis facing capitalism.

As well, the Conference discussed how the current political situation affected the efforts of the Democratic Party, the main capitalist party for deceiving the workers and the oppressed nationalities, to latch hold of the mass movements, in fact, the Reagan program is the joint program of the bourgeoisie and of the deepening all-round crisis facing capitalism.

and the Republicans. The Republican Reagan administration is following in the footsteps of the Democratic Carter administration. Nevertheless, the "left wing" of the Democratic Party and the social-democrats are seeking to undermine the mass struggle against Reaganite reaction by tying the working masses to the Democratic Party. This lends added importance to the stand of the MLP to "Build the Independent Movement of the Working Class." Under this slogan, the MLP not only encourages the mass struggle against capitalist reaction, but strives to direct it onto the path of splitting with all the capitalist parties, the Democratic Party as well as the Republican Party.

Second, the Conference assessed the pace of work of the Party since the Founding Congress and discussed the outstanding questions of party-building. The last year and one-half has seen a tremendous development of the Party's work. Vigorous and sustained political agitation has been maintained on the mass fronts, major advances have been made in strengthening the theoretical foundations of the Party, the struggle against opportunism and revisionism has been kept at a high level, and so forth. It is also notable that, despite the setback to the strike movement since the defeat of the auto workers in the "concessions" battles of late 1979 and despite layoffs and plant closings, the Party continued to make steady progress in entrenching itself at the factories.

This intense work of the Party is vivid testimony to the strength and vigor of the Party organizations at all levels, to the clarity of the Party's orientation and to the self-sacrificing spirit of the militants of the Party. This brings up new problems in building the Party, party-building remains a decisive activity not just in founding a party, but in the day-to-day work and struggle of a Marxist-Leninist party. The Conference discussed current problems in the latter line of the Party, the new developments in the building of anti-imperialist mass organizations, and the steady development of party organization at the factories.

Third, the Conference assessed the significance of the emergence of liquidationism as the main feature characterizing the revisionist circles in the U.S. today. The Founding Congress of the MLP had already raised a warning against the increasing activation of social-democ-rary by the bourgeoisie and called for stepping up a relentless struggle against social-democracy. As well, the Congress had pointed to the significance of the fact that the "three workers" and followers of Chinese revisionism were merging with social-democracy.

Later, at the start of 1981, the Workers' Advocate warned that out-and-out liquidationism had become the central feature of revisionist treachery in the U.S. Revisionism and merger with social-democracy are basic features of this liquidationism. Today the struggle against liquidationism has come to the fore of the struggle against the domestic revisionist circles, including both the followers of Soviet and of Chinese revisionism, such as the struggle against social-chauvinism was the cutting edge of the struggle against the followers of Chinese revisionism in the 1970s-1980 period. A fight must be waged on two fronts, both against social-democracy and against the revisionist and trotskyite liquidators who advocate and practice merger with social-democracy.

The Conference denounced liquidationism as the mortal enemy of Marxism-Leninism and the revolutionary movement. It approved the assessment of liquidationism elaborated in The Workers' Advocate in such articles as "The Advance of the Revolutionary Movement Requires a Stern Struggle Against Social-Democracy and Liquidationism."

Fourth, the Conference assessed and condemned the war being waged by the leadership of the Communist Party of Canada (M-L) against the MLP USA.

The leadership of CPC(M-L) had treacherously broken off relations with the CPUSA, professor of our Party, on December 5, 1979, less than a month before the founding of the MLP USA. Since December 5, 1979, the leadership of CPC(M-L) has gone all out to strangle our Party.

The Conference condemned this wrecking activity of the leadership of CPC(M-L) and considered that it resulted from their grave Maoist and liquidationist deviations. The Conference held that the work of fighting this wrecking activity has been essential in safeguarding the integrity of the MLP, strengthening the theoretical foundations of the Party, and defending the interests of the world revolutionary Marxism-Leninism against the international factional activities of the leadership of CPC(M-L).

V.I. Lenin

J.V. Stalin

The unanimous condemnation at the Conference of the deviationist activity of the leadership of CPC(M-L) is another sign of the total fissure that they have suffered in their attempts to overthrow the leadership of the MLP and set up an anti-party network in the U.S.

Besides the four main points listed above, the Conference also discussed such topics as the situation in the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement; some questions of tactics in the light against social-democracy including the question of social-democracy in the black people's movement; some questions concerning work in the reactionary trade unions and trade union elections; and the role of domestic Trotskyism as little helpers of the pro-Soviet revisionists.

The Conference after reviewing the new developments of the past year and one-half, stressed that these developments showed the correctness of the line of the Founding Congress of the MLP. It held that the task was to march firmly along the path laid down at this Congress. The Conference was marked by its militant spirit and its steel-like unanimity on all the major questions. Also notable were the enthusiasm of the participants, the high level of participation in the discussions and the increase in the ideological level of the militants of the Party during the ideological period.

It was a historic Conference. Held in the face of the crusade of the liquidators against revolutionary Marxism-Leninism, held despite the savage wrecking work of the leadership of CPC(M-L) against the MLP USA, and held in defiance of the capitalist offensive, the Conference was a resounding affirmation of the theory and practice of revolutionary Marxism-Leninism. It was the Conference of a monthlong Party, a Party determined to march forward along the path of socialist revolution and communism.

Resolutions

The following resolutions were unanimously approved by the First National Conference of the MLP USA.

Uphold the Line of the Founding Congress

The First National Conference of the MLP USA firmly upholds the stand of the Founding Congress of the MLP USA and holds that the orientations from the Congress have proved to be more necessary than ever in the light of the new developments since January 1, 1980. The Conference expresses its satisfaction that the line of the Founding Congress has been resolutely implemented in the work of the Party.

The Conference notes the important role played by the Communist of the Founding Congress of the MLP USA and the General Rules, which correctly set forth the line of the Founding Congress. ...

On the Current Political Situation

The First National Conference of the MLP USA denounces the barbarous Reagan regime as the butchers deciding by the monopoly capitalists to carry out their savage offensive of starvation, fascism and war. In its short period in office, the Reagan regime has already made itself the symbol of reaction, warmongering, racism and capitalist slave-driving in the eyes of the working masses. This regime has already proved itself to be a regime of open warmongering, brinkmanship and the big stick against the world, a regime whose answer to every question is more bombs, more bloodletting and more support to the reactionaries and fascists around the world, a regime which personifies the imperialist hangman. This regime has already made itself to be a regime of the savage capitalist program of "revitalization" of industry, of brutal productivity drives, wage cuts and layoffs, of flagrant strike-breaking drives and of cutbacks in social benefits and an all-out war on the poverty-stricken, a regime of driving the masses to the wall. This regime has already proved itself to be a regime of cashed-in reactionists, dedicated to terrorizing the oppressed nationalities and imperialist hangmen.

The installation of this regime is another sign of the increasing danger that reaction and fascism pose to the working masses, a sign of the deepening process of fascism. The ferment among the masses is growing and the capitalists are preparing to crush them with prisons, police, and storm troops. At the same time, the installation of the Reagan regime is another sign of the increasing desperation of the monopoly capitalists and of the deepening crisis besetting capitalism. The masses are stirring and a deep outrage is developing. Great class battles are on the agenda in the 1980's.

The First National Conference also stresses that the fascist policy of the Reagan regime is nothing but the bipartisan policy of monopoly capital. The Republican Reagan regime is carrying out the program set by the Democratic Carter regime before it, a regime which imposed the fascist Taft-Hartley act against the coal miners, which instituted wage controls and the program of industrialization of the economy, which fostered the development of racist and fascist gangs, which carried forward the enslaving and neo-colonial aims of U.S. imperialism through its hypocritical "human rights" policy, and so forth. Furthermore, today the Democratic Party is falling all over itself in its rush to support the Reaganites and to prove itself ready to militarize just as much if not more than the Reaganites, to give just as much if not more to the rich, to use the lash against the masses just as much if not more than the Reaganites, and so forth.

The Conference observes with contempt that despite the Reaganite nature of the MLP USA, nevertheless, today the Democratic Party, are going all out to bring the Democratic Party as the alternative to Reaganism. The social-democrats are being activated more and more by the mass against the masses just as much if not more than the Reaganites, to liquidate the capitalist parties. The social-democrats, traitors to the labor bureaucrats and the "respectable" liquidators to the oppressed nationalities, are going all over themselves to adapt to the program of the reactionary drive of the monopoly capitalists, and they are being drawn further and further to the right by the Reaganite reaction. This situation lends even more importance to the stand of the Marxist-Leninist Party to "Build the Independent Political Movement of the Working Class," the stand of orienting the mass struggle onto the path of breaking with all the capitalist parties and particularly with the two big parties of capitalist reaction, the Democratic and Republican Parties, and of fostering the development of the independent class stand of the proletariat.

The situation of a threatening reaction and of imminent class battles lends even more urgency to the rallying of the working class around its own class party, the Marxist-Leninist Party, and for the resolute upholding of the tasks of party-building. Only the proletariat party is capable of leading the working class through all the twists and turns of the struggle against the bourgeoisie. The building of the genuine communist party is the core of the building of the independent political movement of the working class; it is the central driving motor necessary for the success of the whole movement.

The Conference also discussed the program of building the independent movement of the working class in the orientation and guide for unfolding the method of approach to the masses, the tactics to bring them step-by-step to revolutionary positions. New upsurges in the revolutionary movement among the oppressed masses are imminent. The development of the anti-imperialist movement, the great tension preceding an inevitable new upsurge in the struggle against racial discrimination and all forms of national oppression, and the great movements inevitable among the working masses against the dramatically worsening economic conditions, all point to the great class collisions lying ahead. The development of the forms of approach to the masses is inseparable from the historic task of the proletariat party to guide and orient the revolutionary struggle of the working masses. The present political situation requires the Party to tread forward firmly along the line laid down at the Founding Congress. The bourgeoisie has thrown down its challenge to the masses — it is up to the toiling masses to give their reply. □

Against Liquidationism and Merger with Social-Democracy

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA reviews the new developments in the struggle against revisionism and opportunism. Today all the various currents of revisionism in the U.S. are in positions of out-and-out liquidationism. This includes the followers of Chinese revisionism, for whom liquidationism is the culmination of the bankruptcy of U.S. neo-revisionism, and the various followers of Soviet revisionism, including the "CP-PUSA who have been liquidators for decades. The liquidators of the latter faction were the chief of the party and the independent class organization of the proletariat; they are actively spreading an atmosphere of abject betrayal; and they are advocating and putting into effect a policy of merger with social-democracy, the sold-out labor bureaucracy and the entire liberal-labor march centered on the Democratic Party. This Browderite liquidationist crusade arises at this time owing to a number of factors, some of which are the utter fiasco of the rise of revisionism and the capitulation of the opportunists to the savage capitalist offensive; and the increasing use of the bourgeoisie in taking of social-democracy in order to stamp out the revolutionary breeze among the masses, and liquidationist labor user capitalist influence. Liquidationism represents the inebriation of the bourgeois dressed up in pseudo-"communist" and "Marxist-Leninist" disguises.

The First National Conference considers the rise of liquidationism in the recent period to be a most significant development. Liquidationism and the advocacy and practice of merger with social-democracy have become the central features of the better revisionist war against Marxism-Leninism and the revolutionary movement. This is the same war as the struggle against social-chauvinism was the pivot or cutting edge of our tactics in the struggle against neo-revisionism during the 1970s-1980 period, today the struggle against liquidationism is the pivot of our tactics and of strategy has come to the fore as the central focus of the struggle, the pivot of our tactics against all the various revisionist currents, against the Khrushchevite "CP-PUSA" and its trotskyite and other hangersons, against the Maoist and social-chauvinist sects, and against the other revisionists.

The First National Conference approves the analysis of the Central Committee of the MLP USA of this question which has been developed in The Workers' Advocate since the first of this year. This analysis is in accord with the recent developments which have come into focus since the Founding Congress, and it is in accord with the line that was set forth by the Founding Congress which laid stress on refuting the main liquidator theories, particularly the process of merger with social-democracy and the denigration of the party principle.

The First National Conference of the MLP holds that there can be no peace in the struggle between revolutionary Marxism-Leninism and revisionist liquidationism as this is a life and death struggle for the defense of the Party and for the defense of Marxism-Leninism, an arduous struggle for the class independence of the proletariat, a bitter struggle which is absolutely necessary to advance the revolutionary movement.

Militant Solidarity with the Marxist-Leninist Communists throughout the World

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA salutes the Marxist-Leninist communists throughout the world.

The Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA is the American contingent of the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement. It calls the Marxist-Leninist revolutionaries who are fighting and shedding their blood in struggle against imperialism, social-imperialism, and reaction, for a new world, the world of socialism and communism. Our Party supports the heroic struggle which is being waged all around the world to build up the Marxist-Leninist communist parties in the face of the bitter opposition of the bourgeois and revisionist enemies of the party. This requires the greatest dedication and sacrifice on the part of the Marxist-Leninist militants, for the class enemy aims his blows in the first place against the genuine communist party. Fighting in defiance of the savage forces of the bourgeoisie, the parties have given many martyrs in the revolutionary cause.

The Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA works to strengthen the unity of the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement. The proletariat is an international class. The parties the world over are united by solid bonds of proletarian internationalism and are contingents of a single international movement. We urge the workers of the world, the proletariat and because they wage a revolutionary struggle against the class enemies of the proletariat, a against the bourgeoisie, the imperialists and social-imperialists, and the reactionaries. The solidarity, cooperation and fraternal bonds between the parties are a powerful factor in the victory of the revolution.

The unity of the world Marxist-Leninist communist movement finds its granite foundation in the revolutionary doctrine of Marxism-Leninism. Modern revisionism, right opportunism, constitutes the main danger to the international Marxist-Leninist movement. Safeguarding and strengthening the international movement and its unity require that the ideological struggle against Soviet revisionism, against Chinese revisionism and Maoism, and against all the other currents of modern revisionism be carried forward. The continuation and extension of the great polemic of Marxism-Leninism against revisionism is the imperative duty of all Marxist-Leninist communists.

The international Marxist-Leninist communist movement is the guardian of the future of the proletariat and of mankind, the herald of a new day, a new world. To the Marxist-Leninist communists fighting on every continent, this Conference declares the undying militant solidarity of our Party in this glorious cause.

Long live the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement!

Workers of Marxism-Leninism!

Workers of all countries, unite!

Revolutionary Greetings to the Party of Labor of Albania

Central Committee
Party of Labor of Albania

Dear Respected Comrades,

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA sends its ardent revolutionary greetings to the Party of Labor of Albania on the occasion of the jubilee year of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Party of Labor of Albania.

In the 40 years of glorious struggle since the founding of the PLA on November 8, 1941, the PLA has won the profound respect of Marxist-Leninist, revolutionaries, and class-conscious proletarians all over the world. In the face of the savage imperialist-revisionist onslaughts of the bourgeois working class people, closely united around the PLA, has continued to advance along the road of revolution. This victorious march of socialism in Albania is a great inspiration to the workers and oppressed people throughout the world. Today Albania is only genuine socialist country in the world. It serves as a powerful beacon of socialism, as the shining example of the new life without exploitation of man by man and as a steadfast bastion of the world revolution.

All the victories of the Albanian people and of socialism in Albania are inseparable from the development and strengthening of the PLA. The PLA is a party built in the flames of the revolutionary struggle, a party of Marxism-Leninism, a proletarian revolutionary party of the new type, the type of Lenin and Stalin. The forty years of the life of the PLA are a militant testimony to its revolutionary devotion to the cause of world revolution and socialism, to its rigorous adherence to the immortal principles of Marxism-Leninism and to its courageous and resolute stand against revisionism and opportunism. The history of the PLA is an inspiration and a rich source of lessons in the conduct of the revolution and of the building of the genuine communist party.

The PLA has always fought against modern revisionism of all hues, be it that of Tito or Khrushchev, of the Euro-communists or of the Chinese revisionists. It is the merit of the PLA that it was the first to recognize the counter-revolutionary features of Khrushchevism and to rise against Soviet revisionism. This was an immense contribution to the cause of international Marxism-Leninism. And once again, in the struggle against Chinese revisionism and Mao Zedong Thought, the PLA has made a gigantic contribution to the world Marxist-Leninist communist movement. The Soviet revisionists of the Chinese revisionists have worldwide exposure and condemnation of "three worlds-imand Chinese revisionism. Moreover, at the same time as the PLA has fought Chinese revisionism and Mao Zedong Thought, it has not forgotten to keep up the fire against the other currents of revisionism as well and, for example, has scorchingly condemned any manifestations of reconciliation with the Soviet revisionists. This fight against all the currents of modern revisionism has been a gigantic struggle. The last several years alone have seen a series of special sessions and major documents against revisionism and opportunism from the PLA, including the outstanding Marxist-Leninist works of the First Secretary of the Central Committee of the PLA, Comrade Ever Hoxha, such as Imperialism and the Revolution, Reflections on China, Eurocommunism is Anti-Communist, With Stalin, and The Khrushchevites.

The 40th anniversary of the founding of the PLA is being celebrated at a time when the imperialists and social-imperialists have stepped up their pressure against socialist Albania. The recent sinister provocations of the Yugoslav revisionists against socialist Albania are part of the imperialist-revisionist blockade as well as being related to the Titoist "savage" provocation of the Albanian nationality in Kosovo. The First National Conference of the MLP, USA firmly condemns these vile acts of the Yugoslav revisionists and stands by the side of the Albanian people. The PLA and the Albanian people have faced many such vicious attacks over their history and have rebuffed all of them. Just as in the past the revisionists and imperialists have broken their heads in vain over Albania, so will they today whenever they dare to stand against it. In this struggle, the revolutionary proletariat and progressive people all over the world defend and support socialist Albania.

The upcoming 40th anniversary of the PLA coincides with the holding of the 8th Congress of the PLA. The First National Conference of the MLP, USA sends its militant proletarian internationalist greetings to the 8th Congress and its best wishes for further victories in the glorious work of the PLA in defense of Marxism-Leninism, the construction of socialism and the defense of the socialist movement.

Long live the Party of Labor of Albania!
Long live the Marxist-Leninist revolution!
Gloory to Marxism-Leninism!

With warmest revolutionary greetings,

First National Conference of the
Marxist-Leninist Party, USA

Revolutionary Greetings to the Partido Comunista del Trabajo (Dominican Republic)

Central Committee
Partido Comunista del Trabajo (Dominican Republic)

Dear Fraternal Comrades,

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party of the USA sends its ardent revolutionary greetings to our brother Party in the Dominican Republic, the Partido Comunista del Trabajo, as an expression of proletarian internationalist solidarity with the Dominican Marxist-Leninists who have shouldered the glorious task of building the Marxist-Leninist communist party of the proletariat. On the second anniversary of its founding, the Partido Comunista del Trabajo has shown that it is in the vanguard of the struggle of the Dominican working class and people against U.S. imperialism and the Dominican exploiters, a struggle which will pave the way for the triumph of the new socialist and communist society in the Dominican Republic.

The Partido Comunista del Trabajo is the first standard-bearer of the revolutionary traditions of the proletariat, the Dominican working class and people, including those of the Movimiento Popular Dominicano and of the historic revolution of April 1965. The Partido Comunista del Trabajo has also waged a courageous and principled struggle against revisionism and opportunism, and in particular against the influence of Chinese revisionism and Castroism, in order to embody the revolutionary traditions in the form of a party of the new type, the Marxist-Leninist revolutionary party of the proletariat.

The fraternal ties between the Partido Comunista del Trabajo and the Marxist-Leninist Party are part of the proletarian internationalist relations binding together the world Marxist-Leninist communist movement. Our Party is committed to strengthening these relations; to developing the indispensable mutual collaboration between the working class of our two countries against our common U.S. imperialist enemy; and to furthering the cooperation in our common struggle against the bourgeoisie, against U.S. imperialism and Soviet and Chinese social-imperialism, against the Khrushchevite, Maoist and other brands of modern revisionism, against social-democracy and all opportunism, and for the triumph of the glorious cause of the revolution and communism.

On the Wrecking Activity of the Leadership of the Communist Party of Canada (ML)

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party, USA wholeheartedly endorses the principled stand and painstaking work of the Central Committee in vigilantly defending the Party in the face of the hostile, wrecking activity of the leadership of the Communist Party of Canada (M-L). The Conference expresses its contempt for the December 5, 1979 letters and other brutal letters of the leadership of CPC(M-L), endorses the June 16, 1980 letter of the Central Committee of the MLP, USA and the analysis of the polemical series "Against Mao Zedong Thought!", parts one through five, and vows to carry the struggle in defense of the Party and of the purity of Marxism-Leninism through to the end.

The Conference denounces the attempts of the leadership of CPC(M-L) to impose a "special relationship" on our Party, a factional relationship to wreck the Party and to attempt to build an anti-party network inside the U.S.

The First National Conference rejects the attempts by the leadership of CPC(M-L) to impose upon our Party a pacifist line in opposition to the proletarian revolution, against imperialism and opportunism and their attempts to bludgeon our Party into accommodation with social-democratic and revisionist groupings. The Conference vows to carry the struggle against all forms of revisionism and opportunism through to the end.

The First National Conference observes that the wrecking activity of the leadership of CPC(M-L) against our Party is the consequence of their anti-Marxist-Leninist blunders and their Maoist and liquidationist deviations. The Conference expresses the hope that the leadership of CPC(M-L) will overcome these deviations and take up the path dictated by revolutionary Marxism-Leninism. The Conference notes that the deviationist stands and activities of the leadership of CPC(M-L) are not only the banner of their wrecking activity against our Party, but are also doing grave damage to the CPC(M-L) itself.

With fraternal revolutionary greetings,

First National Conference of the
Marxist-Leninist Party, USA

The Conference reaffirms the traditional stand of our Party that the close unity and cooperation of the Canadian and U.S. Marxist-Leninists is a powerful factor for the development of the proletarian socialist revolution in these two countries, to continue the proletarian struggle which are linked by many close, historic ties. The Conference expresses its conviction that fraternal bonds will again be established between the Canadian Marxist-Leninists and the U.S. Marxist-Leninist communists.

The Conference pledges that the entire ranks of the Party will continue to exert every effort to defend and strengthen the party of the proletariat in the U.S., to defend the principled unity of the Marxist-Leninists worldwide and to defend the invincible revolutionary doctrine of Marxism-Leninism.

The Conference pledges that the entire ranks of the Party will continue to exert every effort to defend and strengthen the party of the proletariat in the U.S., to defend the principled unity of the Marxist-Leninists worldwide and to defend the invincible revolutionary doctrine of Marxism-Leninism.

On the International Factional Activity of the Leadership of the Communist Party of Canada (ML)

The First National Conference of the Marxist-Leninist Party, USA discussed various features of the international factional activity of the leadership of the Communist Party of Canada (M-L). The Conference expresses its complete contempt for the factional activity of the leadership of the CPC(M-L), activity which damages the cause of international Marxism-Leninism and the interests of the world proletariat.

The Conference rejects the pacifist and factional trend advocated by the leadership of CPC(M-L) on the alleged evidence of two separate but equally legitimate Marxist-Leninist trends in the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement, one of these trends being centered on and led by the leadership of CPC(M-L). The Conference reaffirms the traditional position of our Party that there is only one legitimate Marxist-Leninist trend, that is, the trend of international revolutionary Marxism-Leninism.

The First National Conference of the MLP, USA affirms the stand of the Central Committee in opposing this international factional activity of the leadership of CPC(M-L). The Conference notes that the Central Committee of the MLP, USA in this regard to be an important contribution to the cause of the unity of the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement.

tical value on the national and the international scale of these works testify to the course of events in the world, which speak of the correctness and firm-sightedness of these theses and conclusions as well by their broad international echo they had and continue to have.

The PLA defends Marxism-Leninism on the international scale not only by defending the Marxist-Leninist principles from the revisionist attacks of the enemies, bourgeois and revisionist, to liquidate them, but also by adopting Marxism-Leninism stands for the world development in general and for any international event in particular by denouncing and fighting against the counter-revolutionary policy and ideology of various imperialists and revisionists, by supporting the revolutionary movements, the liberation struggles of the peoples, the international Marxist-Leninist communist movement, part of which is itself.

The PLA renders all its possible help to all the sister Marxist-Leninist parties in their ideological and organizational strengthening by considering such help as its great international task. On the other hand, it considers the support that the Marxist-Leninist and revolutionaries far and wide the world over give to it as a great aid for its struggle for the complete construction of the socialist society. As Comrade Ever Hoxha stressed in the work Imperialism and the Revolution they "see that the Party of Labor of Albania defends Marxism-Leninism when the others attack it; that it defends the principles of proletarian internationalism when the various revisionists have thrown these principles overboard. They see that in its stands the Party of Labor of Albania not only proceeds from the interests of its own country, and the failure of socialism, being unable to see the events in China as really deriving from the concepts of the old Chinese leader. It means that he only hears the word "unsystematically" in the sense that Mao Zedong thought has good things which ought to be introduced into Marxism. This can be inferred from his criticism of the criticism made by those who rather refuse the Maoist viewpoint....

Conclusion. After pointing out that he considers his book as "a contribut also expresses and represents very great interests, near and dear to the entire proletariat, the interests of all those who base themselves on and are guided by Marxism-Leninism for the revolutionary transformation of the world."

The second edition of the History of the PLA, enriched with the reflection of its revolutionary activity for 1960-1980 period and with very important theoretical generalizations that the Party has made in this period, writes in conclusion Zeri Pajulliti, will serve even more, according to the evaluation of Comrade Ever Hoxha as "a sharp and powerful ideological and political weapon for the revolutionary tempering of the communists, the working class, of all the people, for the solution of the great actual problems."
