The Italian people are tired of suffering. A small handful of rotten and selfish men, masters of great wealth, who control the production system and the state machine, force the Italian people to live in the exploitation, oppression, misery. The people of each worker produces wealth, and knows how many there are powerful resources in our country, so he rebels against the big capitalists and their servants who run the state government. Freedom, justice, peace and solidarity between peoples, are all achievements that require the elimination of the power of the big capitalists. For too long, the rule of capital prevents any real progress in our country; and forces the whole society in a state of degradation in every field of human activity. This society is unjust and contrary to the most basic interests of the people, built on dirty principles of individualism and selfishness of the bourgeoisie, barbarian princes who make the company a wild jungle where everyone is realized only by the hatred against others. This state of barbarism is the product of the absolutist rule of private property and the exploitation of man by man.

This unjust society is made up of a pyramid whose apex is composed of ten families who own parasitic trillions, and this summit is supported by narrow layers of servants who receive fabulous salaries, so the rulers and leaders individually salaries equal the sum of one thousand workers' wages. This pyramid crushes a huge base of people who do not have anything except their labour, but they are the only creative force of the company and can not be eliminated, the force that produces all: the workers, the great majority of the Italian people.

This rotten and corrupt society has long been surpassed by the material possibilities that exist in the country, and this company is preparing the people to overthrow, to unleash the productive forces, to make our country a prosperous and just country that fight alongside all peoples to create a prosperous and just world. The vast majority of Italian people, led by the working class can radically transform society based on the principles proletarians, progressive and humane altruism and collectivism.

Twenty years ago the Italian people was now close to the radical transformation of society winning socialism. But, after the stunning victory of the Resistance against the Nazi and fascist barbarism, the people have found unarmed in front of the biggest culprits of war and fascism: the great capitalists; they were not killed because the fundamental core of leadership of the people, the Communist Party, has failed. Some shady bourgeois politicians masquerading as communists had infiltrated in leadership positions and had gradually imposed their revisionist theories, contrary to the teachings of Lenin and Stalin, and they said that you had to take power through elections, gradually developing alliances with capitalists and their parties, and they said that this line exceeded the line of the proletarian revolution only valid in previous backward eras. These traitors have done much harm to our people.

After the victory of the resistance people have been driven out again in a few years, under the yoke of the fascist masquerading as Christian Democrats and Social Democrats. This meant the complete return of the most brutal exploitation by the big capitalists. But when a new world is determined by the reality of things, sooner or later it develops and wins, it is a natural law, superior to the will of the individual and those who betray the cause of the new world. The people want a socialist society and it is inevitable that it calls into gear, because the people are an invincible force that no group of traitors can not stop for long.

The best sons of our people have picked up the red flags of socialist revolution, have picked up the principles of Marxism-Leninism as taught by Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin, and now made even more powerful by the great proletarian commander of our time : Chairman Mao Tsetung. These new militant communists have waged a bitter struggle against the revisionist traitors, have appealed to the masses so that they rejoined the revolutionary way. The Communists Marxist-Leninists have thus become very strong, have learned how to win not only against the bullets of lead, but also against the sugar-coated bullets that corrupt individuals in order to safeguard the exploitation of the masses. Led by the working class and the thought of Mao Tse-tung, the Communist Marxist-Leninists have joined and have embarked on the construction of the true and right Communist Party, the party of the revolution, the party honest and sincere as sincere and honest is our people.

The Union of Italian Communists (Marxist-Leninist) devotes all its energy to build such a party and to arrive at its founding congress. Following the main teaching proletarian of serving the people wholeheartedly, the Union of Communists was put at the head of the great mass struggles and oriented towards concrete victories, placing them at the main slogan: "Next to the 'establishment of the revolutionary government of workers, the workers and peasants based on the delegates elected and controlled by the mass meetings. " Through the development of mass struggle against the government of DC and his minions, more and more states among the masses of the popular strategy for the establishment of the revolutionary government. Against those who speak of a gradual shift to the left of the Democrat government, we answer that history shows that the great capital can not be anything but reactionary, even when it is hidden behind the facade of complacent and traitor "socialism". In this regime every new social movement can only be another step forward in the reaction, and this is demonstrated by the fact that anyone who engages in this capitalist government, while prating of reforms, it always ends up being the most bitter enemy of people. The people wants and needs to wrest the power from the capitalists, must break their machine state dictatorship of the minority against the majority, and must establish the new state machine of the largest democracy of the majority and of the proletarian dictatorship against the tiny minority: the capitalists.

Political expression of this new right and the power system is the Revolutionary Government. This revolutionary government can not be achieved through the struggle in parliament, but only with the revolutionary way in which the masses of the people express their immense material strength crushing mercilessly cancerous capitalists who support it. And when it introduced the revolutionary government realize its great socialist program, the first and primary measures which the people need. The program of the revolutionary government is simple and essential, it is made up of measures without which people can not rid society. The Union of Communists, interpreting the wishes of the people, he outlined the key points of this program in order to solicit the attention of the masses on the power of the achievements that are possible through the revolutionary way. It will then be the working class at the head of all the popular movement that will complement the program of the revolutionary government with all the specifications necessary laws of proletarian power. There are those who, saying he was revolutionary, actually fights the password and the program of the revolutionary government, arguing that the socialist state is a complex system of economic measures and forms of pure democracy that can not be contained in a "simplistic" program, and in fact you can not even talk about the revolutionary government, but only to new state machine. All of them have a serious deviation in the head, they think of socialism with the same mentality of the bourgeoisie, would like to make complicated what is simple, and did not think the people but the enlightened minds can run the company. The program of the revolutionary government shows that most of the complexity of the management of the company is a capitalist invention which arises from the need to keep out the people from the issues of power management. But the socialist revolution is a time of great progress because it approaches the maximum the state to the people, making the most of the simple management of the public interest. For this reason, the program of the revolutionary government is concrete, and performs the important task of showing the people that they can and must, under the leadership of the working class to seize power and manage it for the building of socialism towards the achievement of communism. Wherever you wear the plan of the revolutionary government immediately develops a great debate and change the attitude of the masses towards the current struggle, demonstrating what are the real reforms and how they can be just the product of the revolution. So the struggle today is linked to the future, and you break the lurid theory of intermediate stage between capitalism and socialism, the theory that deceives our people and which serves to spread the reformist gradualism. The first revolutionary stage is defined by the revolutionary government and its program, and the objectives of the struggle of today are just only if they are partial expression of this general program. That is why the program of the revolutionary government is a force that leads the fight today, and then a powerful tool in the fight for unity and victory for the masses. The program of the revolutionary government is right and all the exploited and oppressed supporting it. This program will take place very soon. The end to all the pimps and all the traitors is very close. The people united under the leadership of the working class, and led by the Communist Party (Marxist-Leninist) will win inevitably, uncompromising and apply the magnificent program of the revolutionary government.

LONG LIVE THE REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT!
